ABOUT US

Along with our journey in fashion business since 2001, some residual materials – or commonly known as Perca – was produced . These remaining materials are selected and sorted based on the type of fabric, color, strength, which will be upcycled and reused for creating more products.

In 2010, some of our customers requested for custom-made home décor products by highlighting Patchwork technique while using Perca as the main material. The satisfaction on the result was high and it was excited to see how our customers are happy with this product.

Through those experiences, we are now dive into the home décor products specifically for dining rooms, such as runners, cushions, wall décor, playmats, etc.

We are also committed to providing designs that inspire and also meet our clients' unique style and practical needs.
